

To: Ferrell, Mark[Ferrell.Mark@epa.gov]; Martinsen, Jessica[Martinsen.Jessica@epa.gov]; Seneca, Roy[Seneca.Roy@epa.gov]; Smith, Bonnie[smith.bonnie@epa.gov]
From: Rivera, Nina
Sent: Thur 4/3/2014 7:43:24 PM
Subject: New Yorker article re: WV environmental issues

fyi

From: Field, Stephen
Sent: Thursday, April 03, 2014 2:59 PM
To: Bartlett, Deane; Bolender, Mark; Day, Christopher; Duchovnay, Andrew; Frankenthaler, Douglas; Hykel, Judith; Jamieson, Cheryl; Gable, Kelly; Kier, Lori; Lazos, Pamela; Rivera, Nina; Roundtree, Yvette; Shamet, Stefania; Smith, William (Region 3); Smolski, Robert
Subject: article re: WV environmental issues

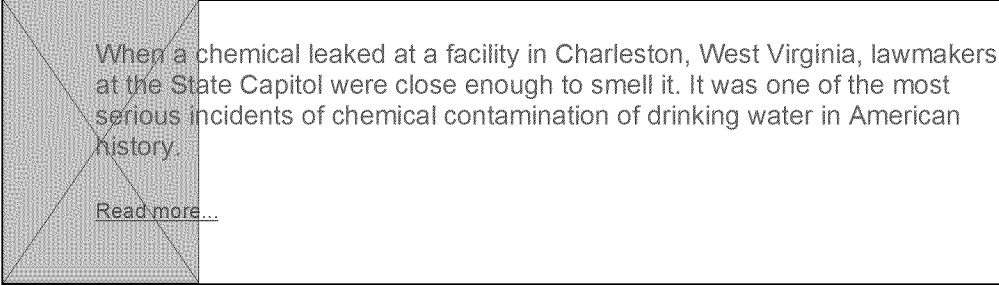

From: Harrell, Martin
Sent: Thursday, April 03, 2014 2:43 PM
To: R3 ORC-MGRS
Subject: FW: New Yorker story on Freedom spill and WV politics

Fyi from Perry

From: McDaniel, Perry
Sent: Thursday, April 03, 2014 2:24 PM
To: Harrell, Martin
Subject: New Yorker story on Freedom spill and WV politics

http://www.newyorker.com/reporting/2014/04/07/140407fa_fact_osnos

	Evan Osnos: A Chemical Spill in West Virginia : The New Yorker
--	---

When a chemical leaked at a facility in Charleston, West Virginia, lawmakers at the State Capitol were close enough to smell it. It was one of the most serious incidents of chemical contamination of drinking water in American history.

Read more...